

FACULTY OF
AUTOMATIC CONTROL AND COMPUTERS

The students' involvement in the Quality Assurance Process

Presentation realized by:
Antonache Andra-Laura
- Student, 3rd year -

Who am I?

➤ STUDENT

- Representing student in the Faculty's Council
- Member of LSAC (Students' of the Faculty of Automatic Control and Computers League)

The Council of the Faculty of Automatic Control and Computers

- Approves:
  - Regulations
  - Development strategy
  - Commissions
  - Curriculum
  - QA plan

Why am I a member of the Council?

- Real difference
  - Students are welcomed and listened
  - Team working together for a common goal

What do I believe now?

- The students have power in the decisional process
  - The professors are concerned by the wellbeing of the students
  - There is always time for students' problems

The Students' of Automatic Control and Computers League

- LSAC (rom. Liga Studenților din Facultatea de Automatică și Calculatoare)
- Live Smile Act Create

LSAC

What is LSAC?

- Student organization
  - Volunteers
  - Purpose: Representation of the students' rights and interests
  - Main activities: Organize events, communicate and resolve problems

How does LSAC do it?

- A lot of support from the Faculty and the University
  - Mutual respect and appreciation
  - Dedicated volunteers

Why are the students dedicating time to LSAC?

- To influence the life of those around us
  - To be involved in the improvement of our colleagues' life
  - Because we believe in Mahatma Gandhi's quote - "Be the change you wish to see in the world"

A student's perspective

- Dependent of the level of implication
  - Lack of trust and responsibility that affect themselves
  - Reluctance

Feedback

- In my opinion, the most useful tool for the students in the assessment of QA
- Gives everyone the chance to express their opinion
- It is anonymous
- It is not relevant because students do not trust it

Conclusions

- If you are decided to make a change you will receive the support
- Diplomacy is always a solution
- Propositions are perceived with openness
- Students are encouraged to express their opinions

Conclusions (2)

- Most of the students here are highly motivated and they appreciate the high standards the faculty has because:

“It is supposed to be hard, if it wasn't hard, everyone would do it.”
